To the keeper of the Metropolitan Museum of Art
New-York

Dear Sir,

One of our subscribers to the Demareteion, of which we are the editors, owns a very important collection of Axumit Coins and would sell some. It is a unique opportunity for a Museum to be able to secure a important gathering of such rare and most interesting coins.

Would you kindly let us know who is your Museum's expert in Paris and we will gladly submit same to him.

Looking forward to the pleasure of your answer, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

DEMARETEION

Dear Sir:

Your letter to the Metropolitan Museum of Art has been turned over to us as they are not interested in purchasing coins.

We presume the collection you have for sale belongs to Arturo Anzani. We are familiar with this collection and are not interested in purchasing it.

Very truly yours,

Curator
